22. Thanks to globalization, it has strengthened the entrepreneurs to take advantages of business opportunities all over the world. In the recent past, businesses have started recognizing opportunities in environmentally oriented 'Green Industry'. India has become a hub of eco-innovations and this has cut across all businesses. Eco-entrepreneurship has been growing at rapid pace and it indeed contributes to the economic and social development. The transformation to eco-entrepreneurs occur when their courage and their determination to solve ecological problems increases and they attempt to do business in re-greenlining of earth, restoring degraded land, cleaning the air, building healthy and safe homes, preserving the environment and cultural wonders. In the current era, consumers also prefer to buy products that are eco-friendly. The changing attitude of consumers in India toward environmentally comfortable products led extra opportunities to eco-entrepreneurs.

Questions:

- Come up with an environment friendly business idea. Write a SWOT analysis of the business and you as an eco-entrepreneur.
- Suggest the short term and long term strategies to develop your business into a successful enterprise.
